I have asked passengers what they think and so far this is not OK. Do not bring the real world onto an airplane. Just the sound of phones ringing and people talking to loud will be enough to start a problem and what about terrorists. If you can not go 4 to 5 hours without eatting or a phone call it is time to take a bus. Please do not make a crew go thru this.